

LIFE GROUP/PERSONAL STUDY QUESTIONS

1. What impacted you most from your overall experience with FCC on Sunday?
2. Do you have current evidence of suffering in your life? Can you identify and name it?
3. Do you think that the Lord has purpose in this suffering? What might it be? How is this creating an opportunity for you to understand God's compassion and mercy?
4. James wants us to think about a Farmer planting seeds, patiently waiting, depending on God for rain and finally harvesting "precious fruit." How does the "farmer analogy" apply to your current suffering?
5. What might you do this week to "establish your hearts," as we are told in verse 8?
6. What can you do to make sure you aren't given over to "grumbling" this week (verse 9)?
7. How did the Holy Spirit prompt you this past Sunday at FCC?

Behold! The Farmer! James 5:7-11

Your suffering is full of purpose.

1. Do not grumble. (James 5:9; Num. 14:27)
2. Be patient, be patient, be steadfastly patient. (James 5:7-8, 10-11)
 - Patience requires some sort of adversity.
 - Patience requires the passing of time.
 - Patience is willing to work with wrong overtime. It is an act of courage; a clear minded choice to engage for the long haul with something that needs repair. - David Powlison

3. The coming judgment of the Lord is at hand. (James 5:7-9)
